

will appear with Dave Captein on bass and Jim Peluso on drums at the Jazz Quarry on Friday and Saturday, May 6 and 7 (Jazz Quarry, 1111 SW Jefferson St., 222-7422).

Saturday 7-

Ted Huckins and Linda Wysong were working on Tri-Met's Ruby Junction Light Rail Repair Facility when they decided the work was art. Thus came Art At Work, their installation, which opens on May 7 at Northwest Artists' Workshop. The effort employs all union labor for the installation (which begins on May 2); it sounds as though, with the scaffolding, tools, construction paraphernalia, taped conversations with the workers, and photographs, we'll get a practical knowledge of constructivism. There's an opening reception from 7 to 10 on Saturday, May 7. The installation is on view through June 3 (522 NW 12th Ave., 220-0435).

Art At Work, at Northwest Artists' Workshop, Saturday